Sales, Technical and Back Office Recruitment for Telecoms Companies

At JMA we are witnessing a major restructure of the skills market; redundancies in some areas, and greater recruitment in others. Q4 was our most successful period of 2008, demonstrating that even in uncertain times opportunities still abound. Many companies are seeking ways to increase revenue generation, and many people are seeking employers that can deliver higher earnings.

We have an understanding of the technology and issues of UK Telecoms gained from talking to over 20,000 industry professionals since 2003. We are unashamedly traditional in how we offer a straightforward, transparent service to our clients and candidates alike.

If you would like our help in recruiting the right people today, for your business needs of tomorrow, just give us a call!
